Ferrell Says Delinquency Up

Gilbert D. Ferrell, San Mateo County district attorney, said a conservative estimate of increase in juvenile delinquency cases in the county since the outbreak of the war is 50 per cent with an increase of 100 per cent in cases termed "unofficial," where the matter is disposed of without taking the juvenile into the Juvenile Home or into the Juvenile Court.

Ferrell presented this picture in a panel discussion of delinquency conditions participated in by six district attorneys, led by Edmund Brown of San Francisco, at the KPO studios, San Francisco, Saturday.

The age group of delinquents in this county, Ferrell declared, ranges from 13 to 17. Formerly it was 17 to 19. The trend is toward more serious offenses, such as auto thefts, burglaries and other felonies. Cases involving service men do not average more than one a month, Ferrell stated.

Ferrell emphasized the necessity for thinking in terms of prevention. Prime reasons for delinquency, he said, were parental neglect, with broken homes, minors going alone to distant places for employment, and children left at liberty while both parents were employed. He cited as contributing factors easy money, youthful craving for adventure and neglect in moral and spiritual guidance in earlier years.

A county-wide council already functioning and a Redwood City council practically completed were given by Ferrell as constructive measures for dealing with the delinquency problem here.

In the open forum following the talks of the attorneys, the district attorneys laid the blame for delinquency on parents.

Woodside To Elect Fire Commissioner

Two fire commissioners are to be elected by the Woodside District at an election Apr. 3.

Candidate for the two-year term is S. W. Campbell, vice president and general manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., San Francisco, who lives near the entrance to Searsville Lake. Paul Fay, Manzanita Way, owner of the Fay Construction Co., is seeking re-election to serve the three-year term.

Cobra venom preparations are used to relieve pain.

Robert Elliott Suffers Injuries

Robert R. Elliott of Alvanada Rd. suffered a dislocated shoulder, severe cuts on the head and a bruised hip when the car which he was driving plunged off Oak Knoll Drive near Summit Drive, and down the hillside, turning over three times. Elliott was thrown 20 feet when the car came to a stop.

Elliott, a former National Motor Bearing Co. employee now employed at Hammond Aircraft Corp., walked to the home of friends, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Lloyd, 950 Upland Rd., who called medical assistance. The car was badly smashed. Elliott is Port Captain of the Sequoia Yacht Club.

Corbetts Sell Home, Pool for $30,000

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Corbett have sold their home on Hopkins Ave. and Myrtle St. to Mr. and Mrs. Earle E. Bach for $30,000, stamps on a deed recorded with County Recorder T. C. Rice revealed.

The sale included five lots and a swimming pool on the property. Bach is a United Air Lines pilot. The deed was recorded at request of San Mateo County Title Co.

S.F. Woman Faces Petty Theft Charge

Violet Martell, 37-year-old San Francisco machinist trainee, was in the county jail at Redwood City charged with petty theft after having been discovered in a Coast-side cabin by a coast guardsman early Sunday morning.

Dep. Sheriff Ben Silverstein said he was called to Martell's Beach, eight miles south of Half Moon Bay, about 3 o'clock Sunday morning by a coast guardsman to bring the woman to Redwood City. The coast guardsman told him that he had found her in an unoccupied cabin belonging to E. J. Watt and found a stickpin, earrings and trinkets in her possession.

The machinist trainee gained entrance to the cabin by breaking glass in a door with her shoe. She cut her finger and sprinkled blood over the cabin. She told Silverstein she had been to party nearby. Upon reaching Redwood City she tried to jump out of the car, Silverstein said.

Launching a final drive to attain the $58,500 quota set for this area, the Redwood City chapter is almost $22,000 short, with but two more days to go, Mrs. W. A. Baxter, campaign manager, announced today, and at the same time issued a warning that the solicitation will have to continue into April if the month ends with the goal unachieved.

Although this year's donor list is long, and the contributions are generous, the "invasion year" quota is large. Mrs. Baxter urges all those who have not contributed to do so, and those already on the list are asked to contribute more if it is possible to do so.

The goal is higher this year because of increased need for sending workers, plasma, surgical dressings, recreational facilities and other items into the battle zone with invading troops.

Harvey D. Gibson, American Red Cross Commissioner in Great Britain, who has pledged that Red Cross workers will be with the European invasion troops just as they have been with others throughout the Allied campaigns, declared recently that first assault troops will carry with them life-saving blood plasma and surgical dressings made by American women. After the beaches are won, the Red Cross will move in with field directors, hospital aides, clubmobiles and rest and recreational facilities.

In the second wave will be Red Cross women who will staff clubmobiles, establish "doughnut dugouts" and stand in readiness to advance as the troops move into enemy territory.

The 108 clubmobiles operated by the Red Cross can be cleared quickly if necessary and converted to ambulances that accommodate 10 stretcher cases or 20 ambulatory cases each. The Red Cross also will open permanent clubs and rest areas whenever conditions become sufficiently settled.

Fire Sweeps In Dwelling

Flames which spread from an overheated chimney to a shingle roof gutted completely the top floor of a 22-room, $40,000 home at 1049 San Raymundo Rd., Hillsborough, at 11:45 a.m. Monday.

San Mateo, Burlingame and Hillsborough fire departments were called to battle the flames which were not brought under control for two hours and at 2 o'clock, the house was still smoking.

The house is the residence of Graeme McDonald, San Francisco investment broker, partner in the firm of McDonald and Kahn Inc. Mrs. McDonald and two children were in the house at the time the fire broke out, but escaped without injury.

Conflicting reports from the fire departments varied from total loss to only partial damage. The house is owned by Barnaby Conrad, and was of wood and stucco with a shingle roof and is described as a Stratford-type English architecture.

OPA Prepares For Crackdown

As Bay Meadows began the second week of its current 35-day spring racing meet, OPA officials revealed that license numbers of 1000 motorists attending the San Mateo track have already been sent to Sacramento. There, it was said, they will be checked for additional information regarding names and addresses, as a part of the continuing checkup on pleasure driving.

According to OPA reports, San Franciscans who have "A" stickers who have made but a single trip to the track may make two more on their allotment. Numbers are tabulated, however, particularly when motorists are suspected of having traveled long distances and in cases where no "A," "B" or "C" stickers are displayed on the windshield.

Under the new policy of placing the burden of proof of non-violation on the shoulders of the motorists, scores of first timers may be called before their local boards to explain why race track driving should take precedence over normal family necessity driving, officials said.

Deaths of children under 15 rose 11 per cent in 1943.

Tax Worries Appear Again

Help for tax-weary residents of Redwood City will be forth-coming on Apr. 3 when a deputy tax collector will begin his rounds to explain the form for estimating income tax for 1944.

These forms, 600,000 of which have been mailed from San Francisco, must be filled out and filed by Apr. 15. Those who have not received the blank can obtain one at the San Mateo income tax office.

The 1944 blanks are in two forms, the long and short, and must be filled out by all single persons making over $2700 annually and all married persons earning over $3500 yearly. If the amount withheld from the taxpayer's salary does not cover the estimated tax as computed on the blanks, then he must pay one-quarter of the tax when he files the form between now and Apr. 15.

Warren Whiting, state income tax examiner, explained that those who must file a state tax are those earning more than $5000 gross last year, or anyone whose net income, after personal exemptions is $500 if married and $2000 if single. State income taxes must be filed by Apr. 15, same deadline as for filing the first installment of 1944 estimated federal income tax.

Youths Admit Shootings

Two youths who were free on bail from Palo Alto jail after charges of malicious mischief and burglary had been placed against them were booked in the county jail last night on malicious mischief charges and released on $500 bail each.

One of the youths, Henry Beeston, alias Henry Desston, 18, was arrested on warrants in San Francisco by San Mateo County deputy sheriffs. A 16-year-old youth came in to the sheriff's office last night with his father and gave himself up. A third member of the trio had not been apprehended today.

Chief Dep. Sheriff Walter Moore said that Beeston had confessed that the trio shot out 35 street lights in the south end of the county. He also confessed to shooting at a cuckoo clock in a home.

The trio was released from jail at Palo Alto on bail. They were charged with breaking street lights and windows, breaking up petting parties by using a .45 caliber revolver and for burglary of the Palo Alto Military Academy.

COMMUTERS: Club Backs No Council Candidate

BY JOE CABOOSE

It has been the policy of this column to remain strictly aloof from anything that smacked of politics. We have been particularly careful in the current city and county campaigns, to avoid comment either about candidates or issues. To do otherwise, we felt, would be an offense against good taste, and an affront to our host, the Redwood City Tribune, which graciously suffers this column in the belief (probably erroneous) that it is of interest to commuter subscribers.

However, a situation has been brought to our attention which should not and can not be ignored. It is a whispering campaign designed to discredit two candidates for city councilman who, out of seven running, happen to be commuters. The "whisper" is that these two candidates represent the Commuters Club, which is against any industrial development and expansion in Redwood City.

This charge is false on both counts. First, the two candidates who happen to be commuters do not represent the Commuters Club, or any other group of commuters. Secondly, the Commuters Club is not now and never has been opposed to the industrial development of Redwood City. On the contrary, the club is definitely on record as favoring industrial development and expansion, and maintains no less than four club and individual memberships in the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce (not to mention its own representative on the chamber's board of directors), to work toward that end.

What the Commuters are interested in—and they make no bones about it—is proper zoning. They have no objection to plants and factories, in fact they are working

H. L. Witte Reports On Planning Institute

Redwood City was mentioned as one of the Bay Area counties one of the Bay Area communities which had completed a postwar plan at the Community Planning Institute held in Oakland, H. L. Witte, of the city planning commission announced. City Manager Robert Mead and Ronald Campbell, technician of the city planning commission, attended one session.

Unemployment, re-employment after the war, and formulation of financing plans now were stressed at the meetings. Growing seriousness of the Negro problem was emphasized.

Gardening Volumes Given to C. of C.

Six volumes dealing with spring gardening and summer living have been presented to the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce library by the publishers of Sunset Magazine. Although the books may not be taken out of the office, they are available for examination and study. E. W. Butler, chamber manager, announced.

The books cover topics which are of particular interest to Redwood City residents. Butler added. Titles are "Vegetable Garden Book," "Visual Garden Manual," "Flower Arrangements" and "Cabin Plan Book."

Another volume available for reference at the chamber office is "Hunger Signs in Crops," gift of the Producers Sales Co., San Francisco. The booklet deals with soil deficiencies.

hand in glove with the chamber of commerce to bring new industries here; but they want to keep them in restricted areas set aside for manufacturing sites, and not spread all over the residential districts. Who can criticize that position?

The fact that the two candidates in question are commuters is purely incidental, and has no more to do with their qualifications for councilmen than if they preferred brown shoes to black, or parted their hair in the middle instead of on the side. (Come to think of it, both of them would have a little trouble parting their hair!) During our time, Redwood City has had many councilmen and at least two mayors who were commuters, and the town managed to survive. We think the attempt to inject "class distinction"—as between commuters and non-commuters—in the council campaign is hitting a new low in political chicanery and entirely unworthy of the men who sponsor it. In short, the instigators of the "whispering campaign" ought to be ashamed of themselves!

For the record then, please remember this: 1. The Commuters ARE NOT opposed to industrial expansion for Redwood City, but on the contrary favor it and are working for it. The Commuters Club as an organization has no interest in politics and is backing no candidates for any office. 3. The seven public-spirited gentlemen who filed for the city council race are all on an even footing so far as we are concerned, and may the best four win! And we hope we never have to mention politics again!

The membership committee reports the following new members whose applications have been approved during the past 30 days: Howard P. Anderson, Quaker Pacific Rubber Co.; Harrison W. Call, assemblyman; Jack Fox, Columbia Steel executive; Charles M. Goodman, retired insurance broker; Joseph Harper, S.F. shipping executive; Howard Magee, S.F. attorney; Charles J. Malinowski, superintendent, French Hospital, and Gustav Torburn, Pacific Fruit Express.

Friends of John Brand will be glad to know that he is showing marked improvement over the illness which has kept him confined to the Palo Alto Hospital, and that he expects to return home shortly. . . . Stan Perkins, who was too ill to attend last week's house committee meeting, is up and around again.

We're sorry if this column doesn't sparkle today, but there are a couple of good reasons for it. First, the weather over the weekend was so grand we worked ourselves into a coma in the garden and were too tired to write; second, news of the "whispering campaign" against the two candidates who happen to be commuters, took all the heart out of us. We've tried so doggon hard by actual deeds and accomplishments to prove that no segment of our citizenry has a greater stake in, nor a more loyal devotion to, the best interests of our beloved Redwood City than we commuters. "By their fruits ye shall know them!"

Mead Gets Appointment To Bay Area Committee

Advisability of organizing a Regional Airport District committee to levy taxes, construct and operate airports in nine Bay Area counties was discussed by the Bay Area Development Council at a meeting in San Francisco Saturday.

Fred E. Beer, San Mateo County supervisor was elected chairman and Robert Green, member of the San Francisco Board of Supervisors secretary and a constitution was adopted at the Saturday meeting. Purpose of the council, whose proceedings in the past have been of an informal nature, is to coordinate work of various agencies of Bay Area development, and work out a reasonable master plan.

Attending from San Mateo County were C. A. Buck, of the county planning commission, Fred E. Beer, ex-officio member; Roger Campbell, planning commission advisor and Frank Skillman, commission staff member.

Robert Mead, Redwood City manager, and B. M. Doolin, manager of the San Francisco Airport, were named on the advisory committee to study the proposed Regional Airport district.

EVERY PAT WE GIVE OURSELVES ON OUR HOME-FRONT BACK CALLS FOR AN ENCORE

War Is Harder Than It Sounds

If 1000 of our planes go on a raid, and we lose 50, we may say it's pretty good. Only a few hundred of the others may be shot up that they will be laid up for a long time. It requires production of 7000 bombers a year to keep 1000 in combat.

For every 12 men overseas, 100 tons of supplies must be continuously moving towards them. So we must NOT get to feeling: "Well, we've sent the boys the stuff; now THEY can fight the war." We've got to keep making the stuff and sending and sending it.

"I GUESS I'LL JUST STAY HERE TODAY. THE WAR'S DOING PRETTY WELL WITHOUT ME"

AFTER 25 YEARS OF A J-M JOB

Johns-Manville workers have a "Quarter Century Club" for those who have been with the company 25 years or more. The club now has 559 active members. Upon being taken into this club, a new member recently wrote: "I experienced the feelings of a soldier who has been decorated. My service with J-M has been instructive, remunerative and a real pleasure. I have secured the warm friendships of men and women anyone would be proud to know."

Little Journeys to J-M Plants

The dictators said democracies couldn't do it. They said we'd have no teamwork, because we had no Hitler at the top to rule the roost.

But American kids must have learned a better kind of teamwork somehow—maybe playing baseball and football on American back lots.

At any rate, when the war came, American industry sprang into wonderful teamwork somehow. There was a sample of it in the way the Johns-Manville plant at Watson, California, felt to and turned out miles of Transite Pipe, Conduit and Kordnet in 1942 for use in cementments and bases. Pipe thus provided saved iron and steel for guns and tanks, and helped speed the completion of government structures. Teamwork.

Transite pressure pipe and "S" pipe from Watson helped, too, in the wartime expansion of oil refineries and other industries on the Pacific Coast. Teamwork.

Watson's rock wool has gone into war housing projects and is going into thousands of homes for the conservation of fuel.

Julia offers 7 exciting ways to use eggs!

YOUNG BILL gave me his orders for lunch the other day: "And I'd like three eggs scrambled, please!" I couldn't help reflecting on the fact, first that teen-age youngsters have amazing appetites, and second that it's a good thing our farmers are sending so many eggs to market now.

And then I got to thinking about other uses for eggs—and how they can be an important part of every meal, right through the day. Examples:

EGG NESTS FOR BREAKFAST

Toast six 3½-inch rounds of bread on one side. Top toasted side with broiled or fried bacon or ham slice (these could be omitted if not available). Beat 6 egg whites until foamy; add salt and white pepper, continue beating until stiff but not dry. Pile meringue lightly on toast rounds; with rounded end of egg shell make slight indentation in each meringue; gently slip a yolk into center of each nest. Bake on cookie or baking sheet in moderate oven (350° F.) about 10 minutes or until egg yolk is set. Serves 6.

STUFFED EGGS FOR DINNER

6 hard-cooked eggs 4 tbsps. butter or margarine
¾ tsp. salt 4 tbsps. enriched mustard
2 tbsps. mayonnaise 2 cups milk
2 tbsps. vinegar Coarsely grated cheese
¼ tsp. paprika

Halve hard-cooked eggs. Combine yolks, ¼ tsp. of the salt, mustard, mayonnaise and vinegar. Stuff whites with mixture and sprinkle with paprika. Make cream sauce by melting butter or margarine in top of double boiler. Blend in flour, (curry may be added if desired). Gradually add milk, stirring until smooth. Cook over rapidly boiling water 10 to 15 minutes or until thickened; stirring occasionally. Add remaining salt. Pour sauce into heated serving dish and top with eggs. Sprinkle grated cheese over all. Serves 6.

OMELETTE SUPREME FOR LUNCH

6 eggs ¼ cup milk
1 tsp. salt 2 tbsps. shortening
1 tbsps. enriched flour

Beat eggs well; add salt, flour, and milk. Continue beating until light and foamy. Melt shortening in heavy frying pan; pour in egg mixture. As mixture browns on under side, pull outside edges to center of the pan, letting the uncooked mixture run to the edges; continue until all of the mixture is set; cover; cook slowly until set and well browned, about 5 minutes. Uncover; cut one-inch slit on outer edge of opposite sides; fold through center; turn into hot serving platter. Serve immediately plain; or spread with preserves; or sprinkle with cheese. Serves 6.

And here are some more egg-ideas: To bolster vegetable salad, add sliced hard-cooked egg. For sandwich garnish, slice hard-cooked egg. To make meat or fish loaves hold together, mix one raw egg to each cup of meat or fish. For a shining golden glaze on breads and biscuits, brush surfaces with well-beaten whole egg before baking.
